Dear Friends and Colleagues;

This week D-Magazine will start sending out its January issue that includes a cover story which primarily focuses on a number of issues facing our family. The story addresses ongoing issues with the IRS, past litigation from other businesses over 15 years old, an ex-wife and the most personal and devastating issue references my arrest in 2000 for solicitation of prostitution.

As embarrassing and humiliating as this is for me personally, my heart BREAKS for my wife Eleanor, my children; Dorrie and Chris, Christian and Lindsay, Wesley and Patti Jo, Brent, Amanda and Michael and my 3 grand children Johnathan, Cale, and Tyler, as well as for those who have supported me through that time in my life and still continue to do so. To each of you I AM SO VERY, VERY SORRY and hope God will give us all the strength to get through this. I ask for your forgiveness again, and I hate that we, as well as you, must now re-live it with details shared so publicly and shamefully.

Few families can endure serious financial difficulties, let alone issues of infidelity. This has never escaped our minds, and remains something we have continually struggled with as a couple. And now we must re-live this, but this time, with people we don't know nor know us.

I am truly sorry for letting you down and for the embarrassment and the problems this may cause you. Though many of the allegations and statements made in this story are exaggerated, half truths, and even fabricated, I do not deny the severity of the implications..

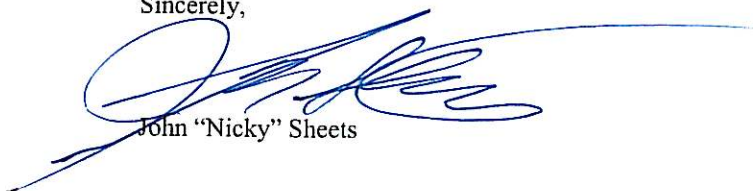

My ability as a business facilitator, marketing director and salesmanship abilities are not questioned in the article. I am hopeful to have your support, friendship, and I am hopeful to maintain our business relationship.

I ask that you never question Eleanor's integrity, market knowledge and her generosity to others as she has shown so many times over the years. Most all the mistakes mentioned in the article were my fault. Additionally, I have received bad guidance from paid professionals including accountants and attorneys.

I am sure the question will be asked many times why would Eleanor stay with me after all I have done, and I do not have an answer except for that it must be for the Grace of God.

I ask again for your forgiveness and support and even more appropriately, I ask that God Bless you and protect each of you and yours.

Sincerely,

John "Nicky" Sheets
