MAYOR MIKE RAWLINGS ANNOUNCES CAMPAIGN CO-CHAIRS

Says working together is the key to a stronger Dallas

(Dallas – March 12, 2015) Today, the Mike Rawlings for Mayor campaign announced that attorney Liz Cedillo-Pereira, Former Mayor Ron Kirk and civic leader Pete Schenkel will serve as campaign co-chairs.

The Mike Rawlings for Mayor campaign also released a Campaign Steering Committee that includes diverse leadership from across Dallas, like Peter Beck, Rev. Bryan Carter, Trini Garza, Richard Knight, Jesse Moreno, Jr. and Anne Motsenbocker.

“Dallas has accomplished so much over the past few years, not because of me – but because of us. Crime is down, we’re creating jobs, growth and new sales tax revenues that will strengthen our basics. I’ve seen what can happen when we work together, and I’m proud to have campaign co-chairs from communities across Dallas who – like me – believe that by coming together we can make Dallas even better,” said Mayor Mike Rawlings.

“We’re just beginning to realize our true potential, and that the very best days for our city still lie ahead. But as a young, healthy, growing city that’s only beginning to realize its potential, I feel now is not the time to take our foot off the gas pedal and coast on a good economy. Instead, it’s the perfect time to address the longer-term issues that will truly shape the Dallas of our next generation. If I’m fortunate enough to earn re-election as Mayor, my focus will be taking on these game-changing issues,” Rawlings continued.

Over the past three and a half years, Rawlings has led on boosting basics while protecting taxpayers, improving our public schools and creating jobs and growth in Southern Dallas. He’s also helped re-shape Dallas’ image on the world stage with his leadership not only with the JFK 50th Anniversary and as host of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, but also during the Ebola crisis, and in tackling ugly issues like domestic violence.
